SASKATCHEWAN SPORT, CULTURE AND RECREATION DISTRICTS

Sport, Culture and Recreation Districts have been established in Saskatchewan to assist community sport, culture and recreation leaders and those who are seeking information on participation or program opportunities. The mandate of the Districts is to focus on facilitating community development and coordinating networks within their District, with the aim of enhancing access to sport, culture and recreation programs and services in the province.

Sport, Culture and Recreation Districts are a one-stop service. District staff will help communities:

- Assess their needs
- Provide services and information to help access a wide range of the sport, culture and recreation programs and services relating to: participation in sport, culture and recreation activities, volunteering, training and more.
- Identify a variety of funding opportunities and assist them in accessing those funds.
- Facilitate linkages and contact with others within their District network.

If you are a community leader looking for information on programs or services, Sport, Culture and Recreation Districts are available to assist you. A map and more information about Sport, Culture and Recreation Districts can be found at:
